The Boy Scouts in Troop 1033 went camping at the Mani-dokan Methodist Retreat Center near Harpers Ferry in Apr. The Troop hiked a total of 10 miles in beautiful spring weather from the campground along the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal to historic Harpers Ferry. The Scouts enjoyed their visit to the historic sites at Harpers Ferry but especially enjoyed visiting the candy store and eating ice to discover frost on the ground and on their tents in the morning, thus the scouts earn their cold weather camping patch. Boys Scouts on the trip included Al Diagne, Yutian Ding, Trevthe Emmanuel Food Bank. The food bank feeds approximately 200 families every month on the 3rd Saturday of the month. At the time, the deal with Behnke's was that volunteers from Emmanuel would manage the garden (planting, weeding and harvesting) and

Inspirational Book Teaches Readers To Pursue Principled Lives

Miriam V. Osborne Elliott announces the release of 'The Price of Promotion'

Beltsville, Maryland – In "The Price of Promotion" (published by CrossBooks), Miriam V. Osborne Elliott's Christian-based inspirational, self-help book, readers are set upon a path toward a purpose-driven life.

With "The Price of Promotion," Elliott works to guide readers toward a sense of progress, significance and power. The book provides guidance through the process of assessing and setting life goals and identifying the paths needed to achieve them. She suggests that people are brought closer to their God-given purpose – finding, knowing and doing what they were ultimately created to do – by embracing the truth of themselves.

An excerpt from "The Price of Promotion":

"Life is an experienced teacher. We are all expected to check in for each daily lesson. After doing this, we will most assuredly have the opportunity to apply what we've learned. Passing the test is not measured in the rote rhetoric we can repeat, but it is measured in the application of proper principles in each situation."

Elliott suggests that people are in dire need of empowerment in today's society. "Doing the right thing is never wrong, no matter

Behnke's would provide the beds and water for free and the seeds at cost to the food bank. And for the last 3 years, that has been how the community garden has worked.

This year Behnke's employees, Alfred Millard and Sissy McKenzie, are coordinating the community garden. They will be planting and maintaining and harvesting the garden for the food bank's summer garden. The employees will be planting a spring garden with carrots, radishes, lettuce and spinach. They are also having a school supply drive in July for the food bank to hand out during back to school time. Julie Pavelka, one of the coordinators of the food bank had this to say, "We would like to thank them for their partnership with us for the past 3 years and their increased support of the garden this year." In our current economic climate it is truly inspiring to see a local business like Behnke's and employees like Alfred and Sissy giving back to the people of their community.

Grand Entry

First impressions are everything. When that front door swings open the foyer is the first space that greets guests, setting the stage for the rest of the entry level. To create a grand entry that is both elegant and interesting the design duo at Will's Home Decorating (www.decoratmaryland.com), Michael Richards and Valerie Kabelac, suggest adding an element of surprise. Paint your favorite color on the ceiling or try one of Benjamin Moore Paint's favorites such as Citron (chartreuse) or Revere Pewter (taupe) instead of the typical white ceiling. Next add glamour to the walls with beaded wallpaper by HGTV's talented Candice Olson. Soften the windows with either a textured sheer or a shimmering taffeta for privacy in a coordinating color that blends with the ceiling to add balance to the beautiful wallpaper. An eco-friendly natural marble on the floor will complete your foyer, providing durability and timeless beauty for years to come.

Whether your home needs new draperies or blinds, flooring, wallpaper or a fresh coat of Benjamin Moore Paint, your local design shop, Will's Home Decorating has it all. Will's has a wide range of quality design products that are unique and stylish. Co-owners Michael and Valerie also offer free personalized design consultations. They are delighted to assist you with your design project and to show you the newest spring colors and design styles for your interiors.

Scouts Deliver a Mountain of Mulch

By Gary Bauchan, Assistant Scoutmaster Troop 1033

Boy Scout Troop 1033 delivered over 40 tons of hardwood and pine mulch in completing another successful Spring Lawn & Garden Products Fundraiser. In total the Scouts delivered over 1500 bags of mulch, LeafGro, top soil products and pansies all over the Beltsville area all within 5 hours.

Scouts stand to deliver a mountain of mulch.

The door-to-door transport was made possible not only by 21 scouts but also by the parents and friends of scouts who volunteered their trucks, trailers, and cars for the deliveries. Thanks to the support of the community each scout earned "Scout bucks" which allows them to pay for such activities as Boy Scout summer camp at Camp Rodney, hiking at Harpers Ferry, tubing at Antietam Creek near Harpers Ferry, and swimming at Assateague State Park. Troop 1033 would like to thank Behnke's Nursery, Inc. for their continued support of our fund raiser and they especially want to thank the Beltsville Community for all their support.

Cub Scout Pack 1031 Visits the Firehouse

By Regina Halper

Cub Pack 1031 spent Mon. Apr. 14th visiting Fire Station 841 in Calverton. They were shown the mess area, sleeping area, the fire truck and ambulance. They learned what they would have to do to become a fire fighter. Lt. Christopher Lynge talked with them about fire and accident safety and how to get help in an emergency. He also showed the scouts all the equipment a firefighter wears by having one of their dads dress up in the gear. The scouts had a great time and thank the firefighters of Station 841 for a great visit.

Cub Scouts is a program for boys from grades 1 to 5. Meetings are held at Beltsville Academy on Mon. nights during the school year. They also meet twice a month in the summertime for outside activities. Boys currently in kindergarten this year can join the pack beginning on June 1st. They welcome any boy interested in joining them to have "Fun with a Purpose." If you are interested, please contact Regina Halper through BeAScout.org.

Do you have "experienced" Cub Scout uniforms you would like to pass on to the pack for new scouts? Please drop them by any Monday evening Cub Scout meeting at the cafeteria at Beltsville Academy or contact them.

Spring's Return

Within a frozen tomb of death till resurrected from their rest Seeds lie in silence for the warming Penetrations which inform their armored shells to break apart and send out tendrils in the dark.
Each has its purpose:
gripping root,
or groping upward with a shoot.
As life beneath the soil bursts out, magnetic heat draws forth a shout heard only in the sweet'ning air, by grub, or worm,
or neighb'ring fare.
Emerging freely

branches bend filled with new buds as they extend.
Soon blossoms open to the sun in vibrant colors clothed, each one.
What wisdom planned this wondrous scene

O'er all the earth
Love celebrates life in rebirth.

Neighbors in the News

Celebrate National Public Gardens Day on May 9

(StatePoint) Birds are singing, flowers are blooming, it can only mean one thing — spring has sprung. May 9, which is National Public Gardens Day, is an ideal time to celebrate the warmer weather and visit a local garden.

“Even if your green thumb means you have a garden right in your own backyard, a visit to a public space can be fun, informative and is a hallmark of the season,” says Casey Sclar, Ph.D., Executive Director of the American Public Gardens Association. “In fact, many gardeners use the trip to get inspired and learn how to practice environmental stewardship at home.”

Here are some great ways to make the most of your trip:

Celebrate Mom

Looking for fun Mother’s Day Activities for the family? National Public Gardens Day takes place annually on Mother’s Day weekend, the unofficial start to spring, and a time when the environment is top of mind.

Celebrated by more than 500 arboreta, botanic gardens, conservatories, entertainment gardens, historical landscapes, museums, and zoos, many sites are extending the National Public Gardens Day celebration throughout Mother’s Day weekend with special events, tours and activities designed specifically for families.

“What backdrop would be more perfect for celebrating mom than a beautiful garden?” says Sclar.

Additionally, many gardens are offering discounts and other special offers to visitors on May 9th. To find a garden near you and learn more about the celebration, visit www.NationalPublicGardensDay.org.

Learn

The staff at a public garden can be a great source of information when it comes to gardening techniques. Don’t be afraid to ask questions.

For example, public gardens use efficient watering practices and have insight on responsible water use and irrigation systems. Learn how to more efficiently irrigate your own garden by consulting with your local public garden.

Additionally, landscaping at public gardens can demonstrate what plants bloom at similar times and what arrangements look great together.

And while you’re there, don’t forget to pick up some reading material on gardening and botany.

Get Supplies

Public gardens often sell plants, flowers and trees during annual festivals, providing top quality native and adaptable additions to your garden. With the sale comes professional experience and advice of the sort that cannot be found in nurseries or hardware stores.

Whether you’re a family looking to spend the day together, a couple on a romantic date or a gardening enthusiast looking for information and inspiration, a visit to a public garden is a low cost way to spend the day outdoors.

It’s Flea and Tick Season: Tips to Protect Pets

(StatePoint) Protecting dogs from fleas and ticks is an important part of responsible pet care and this season shines a light on the prevention of Lyme disease in dogs. Distressing and harmful for your pet, parasites can cause diseases that affect you and your family.

Flea bites can cause skin disorders, infections and allergies, and spread tapeworms. And bacteria spread from infected tick bites can cause Lyme disease, a bacterial infection that can affect humans, dogs and cats.

Lyme disease is characterized by lameness, swollen joints and fever. Ticks carrying Lyme disease don’t discriminate, so it is imperative to take a proactive stance in protecting not only your pet, but your family from this debilitating disease.

Whether you suspect your pet is besieged by pests or you wish to prevent the problem in the first place, experts identify three clear steps to take -- treating your pet, treating your home and treating your yard -- in that order.

“The fleas and ticks on your dog are a small component of your concern,” says Caryn Stichler, vice president of marketing at Sergeants Pet Care Products. “Fleas and their eggs can live outside in grass, soil and crevices in sidewalks, and inside on rugs, carpets, floor cracks and bedding. Treat your pet first and foremost and then the animal’s environment.”

Fleas and ticks multiply at an alarming rate. So act quickly this flea and tick season:

Rosapepe's Report to Beltsville

By Sen. Jim Rosapepe

Last month, Delegates Frush, Peña-Melnyk, Barnes, and I concluded the 2014 legislative session with the state budget balanced and much important legislation passed. With too many of our neighbors struggling in the current economy, we focused on job creation, raising incomes, and protecting public services which working and retired families rely on.

Key budget priorities included:

- state aid to PG to keep teachers, police, and firefighters on the job.
- creating construction jobs in repairing UM buildings and local schools, and increasing investments in roads, bridges, and transit.
- boosting investment in the University of MD and other public colleges by $177 million.
- $15 million to help create a new Prince George's hospital system.
- $41 million to protect open space and improve local parks.

The 2014 budget boosts state funds for Prince George's schools by $57 million. And it protects the 3% cap on college tuition hikes, continues to expand health insurance for working people and investment in cleaning up the Chesapeake Bay.

After 3 years of negotiation, the legislature passed a compromise bill to modify the MD court ruling that pit bulls are "inherently dangerous" and owners are strictly liable for any injury caused by their dog. The unintended consequence of this ruling was an ineffective dog bite policy that treated dog bite victims differently depending on the type of dog that caused their injuries. A fair compromise was reached for both dog owners and victims.

We worked hard to make sure funds raised in the state transportation package we passed last year are budgeted this year for important improvements to our communities:

- adding two new afternoon trips on the MARC Camden Line through Beltsville.
- new double-decker passenger cars on MARC lines to reduce overcrowding.
- continued development of the light rail Purple Line connecting the Metro Green Line and the University of MD with Bethesda and New Carrollton.

To help fill the many potholes created by this winter's weather, we won $785,000 in new state aid to PG to fix local roads.

We worked together on all these initiatives:

- requiring law enforcement agencies to develop uniform, written procedures to promote greater accuracy of eyewitness identification panels in order to increase the ability of prosecutors to convict the guilty and protect the innocent, championed by Delegate Peña-Melnyk.
- continuing to work to clean up the Chesapeake Bay, support renewable energy, and protect the Watershed Improvement Fund, championed by Delegate Frush.
- advocating for progressive legislation including the Minimum Wage increase by Delegate Ben Barnes while serving on the House Economic Matters Committee and as Chief Deputy Majority Whip.
- protecting, and working to expand, local bus service in Beltsville, championed by Senator Rosapepe.

Please let us know if there are other issues you have questions or thoughts about. And, of course, feel free to be in touch if we can be of help to you. Just email 21stDistrictDelegation@gmail.com or call 301.858.3141.

Renewable Term Life Insurance: An Ideal choice

By Toyin Bello

What is a RTLI?

A renewable term life insurance policy, is a plan in which at the end of the coverage time period, you do not have to requalify to keep your existing life insurance policy in force. For example, if I purchased a 20 year renewable term life insurance policy, at the end of the 20 years, and if I decided to still keep my coverage in force, I would not have to requalify (take a medical exam, urine/saliva test) to keep my policy in force. However, if you keep the same amount of coverage you have and you can keep the policy without having to qualify again, your monthly premiums would go up substantially higher because the cost of your premiums is determined by your age and whether or not you smoke.

Talking to your insurance provider

When you talk with an insurance agent or financial advisor, I suggest you ask him or her for a level term renewable term policy. Some insurance agents will try to persuade consumers that a cash value policy will fit their needs.

Cash Value insurance is two to five times more expensive than a term policy. And in most cash value policies, the beneficiary will not receive cash value for the policy they paid their premiums for if the insured dies during the life of the policy...

The spouse will only receive the death benefit. In most cases you will not need a whole life policy; a renewable term life insurance policy will suffice for most people.

Expert Recommendations

According to New York Times bestselling author, and personal finance expert Dave Ramsey, he had this to say on term insurance: "I can easily recommend term life insurance as the only thing because the rest of it (other life insurance policies) is garbage, it's a rip off." Another financial expert and New York Times bestselling author, Suze Orman, had this to say about term insurance: "the only type of life insurance you should have in my opinion is term insurance. Insurance that's good for a specific period, a term"

Should be Cheaper

When your renewable term life insurance expires you may decide to renew the policy. But if you have planned properly, you won't need to have the same amount of coverage as you started with because your debts will have been paid off, your mortgage will have been paid, and if you have children, their expenses will have been paid for as well. So if you do decide to renew your policy your monthly premiums will be much lower because your coverage will be much lower as well. A renewable term life insurance policy is ideal plan for anyone thinking of purchasing coverage or additional coverage.

Your policy may also be up for renewal or getting close to renewal. Or you might have just purchased a new policy. It would be wise to have an insurance or financial professional that you trust look at the documents that you have to make sure that you have a good policy

College Scholarship Available from the Women's Community Club

The Women's Community Club of Beltsville encourages youth who reside in Beltsville and who are either high school graduating seniors who have been accepted into a college, vocational or technical school or currently enrolled freshmen in a college, vocational or technical school to apply for the annual Women's Community Club Scholarship. Students who meet those qualifications need to complete the application form and submit an essay to be in consideration for the scholarship.

As the Women's Community

Club is a service organization the application asks the student to describe their participation and leadership in community groups and volunteer service experiences as well as describe some of their ideas about living in Beltsville and their hopes for the future. The essay this year challenges youth to explain what President John F. Kennedy's quote, "Ask not what your country can do for you... Ask what you can do for your country" means to them and how their life can make a positive difference.

Application and essay needs to be mailed on/before May 7, 2014 to WCCB 2014 Scholarship, Emmanuel United Methodist Church, 11416 Cedar Lane, Beltsville, MD 20705.

To receive a copy of the application, please contact WCCB-beltsville@gmail.com. Applications are also available from guidance counselors at High Point High School in Beltsville or Eleanor Roosevelt High School in Greenbelt.

Formed in October 1922, the Women's Community Club is committed to supporting the Beltsville Community through service. In addition to sponsoring the scholarship, the group is also involved in holiday food basket distributions, cleans up a section of Montgomery Road through the Adopt a Road program, and plants flowers along the community trail for Make a Difference Day. Stop by the Women's Community Club booth at the annual Beltsville Day on May 18 to learn more about the club. New members are welcome to join and work with others to make our community a better place.

Happy Times at College Park Post & Unit 217

By Ivy Christoffers

Tell me, is the normal weather pattern for spring time a few days of summer followed by frigid winter winds and snow? I cannot ever remember a year like this in the Washington D.C. suburbs. So many flowers and shrubs have already bloomed, only to be frozen and stunted by inconsiderate Mother Nature. Perhaps by the time we go to press, the weather pattern will have changed to a mild, warm springtime climate.

The events at Post #217 have been rolling right along. The bingo games held on Tue., Wed. and Thur. each week still prove to be a big draw while the Tue. night bingo (held for those who could not attend the daytime games) is not as popular.

The Friday night dinner & dance is very popular with the community, and if it becomes more popular, they may have to begin holding it in the large hall instead of the lounge, where there is more room. The legion is fortunate to have such good bands that have fantastic reputations, well known by all their attendees.

I had hoped to have information on our Americanism essay winners to include in this column, however, that information will have to wait until the next issue.

The Miss College Park Scholarship Pageant was held on Apr. 13 at the Moose Lodge on Metzert Road. The new Miss College Park is Miss Symphony Dixon, a 19 year old student at The University of MD. The Legion is very fortunate

Angie Rodriguez (on the right) presents her 23rd Miss College Park to the Community. Please meet Symphony Dixon (left), a 19 year old Sophomore at the University of Maryland College Park. Symphony will perform community service work in the community and surrounding area of Prince Georges County.

They would like to thank all the talented ladies who have worn this coveted crown. 2014 marks their 23rd year. We had ham, roast beef, veggies, salad, rolls and a lot of wonderful pies for dessert. There was a 50/50, raffle basket and lots of door prizes. Everyone enjoyed themselves. Norma, Roseanne and Joanie did a wonderful job cleaning and organizing the closet, it was a big job. Livia took a huge box of cards home to sort through and put in order to be sold. Thank you to these ladies for doing a wonderful job. Life is better when you are happy, but life is best when other people are happy because of you.

May is Better Hearing Month

Hearing loss currently affects more than 36 million Americans today. Although hearing problems are commonly associated with the normal aging process, more than half of all hearing-impaired persons are younger than 65. With the increased use of personal music players (MP3s) and ear buds, the number of Americans experiencing hearing loss at a younger age is growing. On average, most Americans consider hearing loss a condition that is simply associated with aging, and don't know how to recognize the condition or who is qualified to diagnose and treat the condition. In an effort to raise public awareness for the growing number of Americans suffering from hearing loss, the American Academy of Audiology, in conjunction with Audiology Unlimited and College Park Hearing Services, is celebrating Better Hearing Month this May.

As part of Better Hearing Month, Audiology Unlimited and College Park Hearing Services are encouraging consumers to be more aware of their hearing health.

"Hearing loss can be caused by exposure to loud noises; ear infections, trauma, or ear disease; harm to the inner ear and ear drum; illness or certain medications; and deterioration due to normal aging process," explains Kathy Mellott, doctor of audiology.

An audiologist is a highly educated and clinically experienced health-care professional who specializes in evaluating, diagnosing, and treating people with hearing loss and balance disorders. Hearing loss can affect patients of all ages—newborns, infants, babies, toddlers, children, teens, adults, and the elderly.

You may have a problem with your hearing and need to see an audiologist: if you have trouble hearing conversation in a noisy environment such as a restaurant, are unable to hear people talk to you without looking at them, or have a constant ringing in your ears.

The first step in treatment of a hearing problem is a hearing evaluation by an audiologist. Audiology Unlimited and College Park Hearing Services have a variety of specialties to include, but not limited to:

- Performing Hearing evaluations on all ages, including newborns and infants
- Prescribing and fitting hearing aids
- Designing and implementing hearing conservation programs
- Providing hearing rehabilitation training

Although most hearing loss is permanent, an audiologist can determine the best treatment, which may include hearing aids, assistive listening devices, and hearing rehabilitation. Ear protection will be given out at the Audiology Unlimited table at a Health Fair at Fairland Sports Complex on May 17th and at Beltsville Day, Sunday, May 18th. Visit our website for times and location, www.audiologyunlimited.net.

Beltsville Academy Takes Top Honors at Orienteering Challenge

By Kevin d'Eustachio

Five student-orientees from Beltsville Academy braved the cold, rain, and mud to take first place in the annual Orienteering Competition at Camp Schmidt. Students Gracie Bell, Samuel d'Eustachio, Anna Devore, Damien Ticer, and Craig West gave up a Saturday afternoon at home in exchange for hours of hiking through the wet woods, a few granola bars and the chance to compete.

If you went to fifth grade in Prince George's County, or if you've had a fifth-grade student in Prince George's County in the last forty years, you know about Camp Schmidt. Camp Schmidt (actually "The William S. Schmidt Outdoor Education Center") is a 450-acre Environmental Education Center run by the Prince George's County Public Schools. Every fifth-grader in Prince George's County has the opportunity to go on an overnight camping trip to Camp Schmidt to learn about stream ecology, wildlife management, problem solving and teamwork.

What you might not know is that Camp Schmidt also hosts an annual orienteering competition. Now in its 27th year, the competition tests the students' map and compass skills and their ability to work together as a team. Any elementary school in Prince George's County can send a team. Teams consist of three-to-five fifth- or sixth grade students.

Beltsville Academy's team consisted of five fifth-grade students of the bicycle-riding, ski-racing, high-adventure teacher from the Wild West, John Starr. A Colorado native and outdoor enthusiast, Mr. Starr planted the idea of the orienteering competition in the students' heads shortly after their class trip to Camp Schmidt. Cub Scout Sam d'Eustachio and his dad recruited team members from fifth graders they knew who liked adventure and didn't mind a hike. Parents Kevin d'Eustachio and John Bell provided adult supervision, and the team was set.

Because only one other elementary school registered, North Forestville, Camp Schmidt teach-map, list of clues, and the point values for each checkpoint. Scoring was based on the number and point value of checkpoints the students located and returning to base within the allotted time. The competition was friendly and the results were close. Second place among the elementary school competitors went to Forest Heights Elementary in Oxon Hill. Forest Heights' team scored the most points based on checkpoints found, but suffered a severe time-penalty for returning late that cost them the lead.

High Road Upper hosts "...Best Arts Festival Ever!!!"

The High Road Upper School participated in their 9th Annual "Fine Arts Festival" event. After three months of practice and creating show pieces, this event allows many students to exhibit their diverse talents through poetry, painting, song, dance and abstract art. This event is collaboration between all the High Road schools within the Southern Maryland region.

"It is astounding to see how confident and positive our students can be when they work together towards a common goal," said dance team coach Ms. Jones. "Each student felt responsible for the others behavior so that all members who started in the group could finish together".

"The students practiced tirelessly every day for weeks to master their individual and group performances" stated teacher Mr. Lewis. This event brings out the love, passion; dedication and hard work that allow the students to shine.

Graduating Senior Anneika stated, "It was fun to dance with my peers, I'm usually scared but my confidence level has risen". "I had an awesome time", said sophomore Quintin. "I loved dancing and I plan on dancing for High Roads at the next "Fine Arts Festival. I will bring the fire!!! I want to thank the school for the opportunity".

Messaijah, a freshman, wanted everyone to know that she "really had fun dancing in the festival this year." She added "I enjoyed being able to share my talents with others".

"I felt nervous at the beginning, but at the end I felt proud and confident", said senior Raysheona.

All of these exceptional students well represented their school through demonstration of great teamwork, communication, utilizing relationship building, time management and problem solving skills while showing respect, patience and understanding toward their fellow performers.

This year's event marks the largest number of participants to ever attend from the Beltsville location. All of the staff and students overwhelmingly agreed that this year was the best ever and they all look forward to greater things in the future. ### Many Happenings at Calverton

Calverton started as a busy month at Calverton, with many events the week before Spring Break which included the Book Fair, Career Day, Kindergarten registration, the spring book fair, and a visit from Kinderman. Kinderman entertained the students in Pre-K, kindergarten, first and second graders at an assembly on Tuesday, April 8 with cheerful songs. The songs were cheerful songs that encouraged student and teacher participation. Some students had the opportunity to dance as well as sing a solo, in a duet, a trio or a quartet. The Book Fair had its Family Fun night on Wednesday evening, April 9, which is always a popular event.

Preparing Students for the Future

By Judith Pollock, Professional School Counselor

Calverton Elementary School staff members have worked hard to ensure students are career and college ready when graduating high school. Students have learned that it is never too early to begin thinking about their future. In fact, all the research suggests that the earlier students begin thinking about college and careers, the more prepared they will be and the more likely they will go on to attend college. As a result, every student in first and fourth grade has completed a Personal Education Plan (PEP). This plan requires students to think about things such as what they are good at doing, school attendance, and grades. They are then asked to set personal and academic goals and to identify steps they can take now to work towards those goals. The PEPs are filed and updated throughout middle and high school years.

Fifth grade students have worked to complete the Sallie Mae Kids 2 College curriculum that helps develop early college awareness and build a college going culture. The program is completed in six lessons and explores education options and the economic benefits of education beyond high school. Students are given the opportunity to complete a Career Interest Inventory and to describe where ventative treatment on your dog, such as PetArmor Plus IGR. PetArmor Plus IGR contains fipronil, the number one vet-recommended active ingredient that kills fleas, ticks, chewing lice -- helping to keep Lyme disease-carrying ticks at bay. It also contains an Insect Growth Regulator that kills flea eggs and stops the reinfestation cycle. The topical can be found at grocery, mass and drug retailers nationwide. More information can be found at www.PetArmor.com.

Treat the Home

"Washing pet bedding, vacuuming carpets and treating with household insecticide sprays, powders and foggers are good first steps to ridding your home of fleas and preventing infestations," says Stichler.

Use a spray that's pet friendly and designed to reach the hiding places of fleas -- rugs, carpets, drapes and upholstery.

Treat the Yard

Your yard should be a safe zone for pets to play, not a place to pick up parasites. Ticks, which are usually dark brown or black, have pincers and can be spotted by the naked eye. Fleas are tiny, brown insects and can be difficult to spot.

So inspect your yard wearing a pair of long white socks. Secure the infested socks in a plastic bag and throw them away. Now spray your yard and around the foundation of your home to kill flea populations lurking outside.

When it comes to the health of your pet and your family, be proactive. Clean your pet, home and yard regularly and use treatments year round to kill pests and prevent infestation.

CALVERTON

they see themselves in 15 to 18 years. In the program students learn about the factors academic counselors consider when evaluating college applications and what they can do in middle and high school to help begin to prepare. Students learn about different financial aid options and ways it can help pay for college. The program culminates with career day where students interact with working professionals and a college campus visit.

On April 10, Calverton Elementary School held the Future Leaders' Career Day. Over thirty-six presenters donated their time to speak to the students. Career Day is held throughout the day so the visitors can come at times that are most convenient. This required planning so that teachers are aware of their scheduled visits and can plan accordingly. There were representatives from the United States Navy, a WTOP news announcer, and a cake decorator, who provided miniature cakes so the children could work together to decorate them. There was an Inspector General from the Department of Defense, singer, songwriter, film composer, and a trumpeter. The zumba instructor and physical trainer provided more than a demonstration; they got the students up and moving in their classrooms. The young students were delighted as they watched the magician perform magic tricks, as well as a clown who entertained the children through story and song. The fire department arrived with their hook and ladder truck and the local police department with McGruff, the crime dog in tow. The weather was spectacular which made for a perfect landing as the aviation police landed their helicopter in the field behind the school. The comments shared throughout the day from many of the presenters had a common thread. They remarked about how well prepared the children were for their presentations, which speak volumes of how hard staff works to prepare students for the demands they will face in future. Thank you to the parents and community for making career day a huge success at Calverton Elementary School, home of the SOARING Eagles!
